

JORDAN HERRILLO

Hoover Institution, Stanford University
herrillo@stanford.edu | 408-891-0236

CURRENT POSITION

---

Hoover Fellow, Hoover Institution, Stanford University, 2025–present

EDUCATION

---

Ph.D., Political Science, Stanford University, 2025

B.A., Economics, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, 2015

PUBLICATIONS

---

Clayton, Katie, Herrillo, Jordan, and Paul Sniderman. 2023. “The BIAT and the AMP as Measures of Racial Prejudice in Political Science: A Methodological Assessment.” Political Science Research and Methods 11(2): 363–373.

BOOK MANUSCRIPTS

---

Herrillo, Jordan. “The Political Economy of Fire Suppression and Forest Management.” Book manuscript in progress.

Haber, Stephen and Herrillo, Jordan. “Survival and Development: The Ecological Origins of Economic and Political Systems.” Book manuscript in progress.

WORKING PAPERS

---

Herrillo, Jordan. “Under Pressure: Did Fuel Treatments Prevent Fire Escape During Oregon’s 2020 Labor Day Fires?”

Herrillo, Jordan. “Wildfires and Land Ownership in the American West: An Analysis of Land Management Practices and Wildfire Outcomes in the 20th Century.”

Haber, Stephen, Herrillo, Jordan, and Roy Elis. “The Extent of the Market: A Test of Adam Smith’s Theory About Geography and Economic Development.”

INVITED PRESENTATIONS

---

2025

“Markets vs. Mandates Conference,” Hoover Institution, Stanford University, May 2025.

2023

“Transport Corridors: Revisiting Adam Smith Using 21st Century Geospatial Techniques,” Inputs to Prosperous Economies: Spring 2023 Conference of the Working Group on the Foundations of Long-Run Prosperity, Hoover Institution, June 2023.

2022

“Transport Corridors: Revisiting Adam Smith Using 21st Century Geospatial Techniques,” Long Range Development in Latin America Conference, Stanford-LSE-Uniandes-CCUTlatelolco, September 2022.

2019

“Survival and Development: The Ecological Origins of Economic and Political Systems,” Midwest Political Science Association Annual Conference, Comparative Politics Lightning Talks, April 2019.

2017

“The Spatial Distribution of Economic Activity and Inequality over the Long Run,” All-UC Group in Economic History, May 2017.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

---

Teaching Assistant, PS114D: Democracy, Development and the Rule of Law, with Kathryn Stoner (Fall 2019, Fall 2021)

Teaching Assistant, PS147: Comparative Democratic Development, with Larry Diamond (Spring 2021)

Teaching Assistant, PS149S: Iran, Islam, and the West, with Abbas Milani (Spring 2022)

Teaching Assistant, PS118P: U.S. Relations with Iran, with Abbas Milani (Fall 2022)

OTHER EXPERIENCE

---

Research Data Analyst II, Hoover Institution, Stanford University, June 2015–September 2018